- 9.00 Registration
- 9.30 Welcome address by
Dr. Dominique Fonteyn, Director Research and Applications,
Belgian Science Policy Office
- 9.40 Using spectral sensors to determine soil organic carbon for soil monitoring
Antoine Stevens, Bas van Wesemael, Damien Rossillon, Harm Bartholomeus,
Bernard Tychon and Eyal Ben Dor
- 10.00 Classification of intertidal sediments based on biophysical characteristics obtained by imaging spectroscopy
Stefanie Adam, Véronique Carrère, Annelies De Backer, Steven Degraer, Bart Deronde, Rod Forster, Elsy Ibrahim, Jaak Monbaliu, Sindy Sterckx, Koen Sabbe and Daphné van der Wal
- 10.20 Hydro-ecological modelling supported by imaging spectroscopy
Okke Batelaan, Lammert Kooistra, Luc Bertels, Boud Verbeiren, Le Quoc Hung,
Bart Deronde, Jan Bogaert and Michael Schaepman
- 10.40 Coffee break
- 11.00 HYPERPEACH: Hyperspectral remote sensing for crop assessment in peach orchards
Jan van Aardt, Pol Coppin, Stephanie Delalieux, Paul Scheunders, Steve De Backer, Pieter Kempeneers, Pablo J. Zarco-Tejada, Guadalupe Sepulcre-Cantó,
Fermín Morales Iribas
- 11.20 GA-based segmentation and feature selection for the classification of AHS hyperspectral data recorded over salt marshes in Schiermonnikoog, The Netherlands
Lieven Verbeke, Karolien Scheerlinck and Robert De Wulf
- 11.40 Measuring chemical pollutant gases in the port of Antwerp using imaging spectroscopy
Michal Shimoni
- 12.00 BRADEX: Bottom Reflectance and Adjacency Experiment for Belgian coastal and inland waters
Barbara Van Mol, Kevin Ruddick, YoungJe Park and Bouchra Nechad
- 12.20 Introduction poster session
- 12.50 Poster session and lunch
- 14.00 Data Collection Planning....Do's and Don'ts
Herb Ripley
- 14.20 Results of the Questionnaire
Carine Petit
- 14.40 Round table discussion
moderated by Lt. Col. Erwin Duhamel (Belgian Ministry of Defense), Prof. Dr. Michael Schaepman (University of Wageningen) and Dr. Herb Ripley (Hyperspectral Imaging Limited)
- 15.30 Coffee break
- 16.00 Conclusions
